

BANISH SCROFULA

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cleanses the Blood,
Skin Troubles Vanish

Scrofula eruptions on the face and body are both annoying and disfiguring. Many a complexion would be perfect if they were not present.

This disease shows itself in other ways, as blemishes in the neck, inflamed eyelids, sore ears, wasting of the muscles, a form of dyspepsia, and general debility.

Ask your druggist for Hood's Sarsaparilla. This great medicine completely eradicates scrofula. It purifies and enriches the blood, removes humors, and builds up the whole system. It embodies the careful training, experience, and skill of Mr. Hood, a pharmacist for fifty years, in its quality and power to cure.

Scrofula is either inherited or acquired. Better be sure you are quite free from it. Get Hood's Sarsaparilla and begin taking it to-day.—Adv.

NORWICH UNIVERSITY.

Tuesday, being Memorial day, the calls were the same as on Sunday. In the afternoon the corps took part in the Memorial day parade at Northfield. Lieut. Parker, commandant and professor of military science and tactics at Norwich, was marshal of the parade. The members of the faculty also took part, wearing the new dress uniforms recently adopted for their use.

The Norwich baseball team played Middlebury at Middlebury on Memorial day. In spite of the fact that the team was composed of nearly half substitutes, they succeeded in holding the fast Middlebury bunch to a score of 9 to 4. Until the fifth inning Norwich had the game 4 to 0. After this, Lamere, who was pitching for Norwich, weakened and allowed Middlebury to pile up their runs. Moulton then replaced Lamere and held them without further scoring. This is the first game Moulton has been given a chance to work out. His showing in this game ought to put him in better.

Thursday, June 1, several officers of the first infantry, V. N. G., appeared before the examining board at Norwich university for examination into their fitness for promotion to the grade now held by them under temporary commissions. The examining board consisted of Col. Ira L. Reeves, First Infantry Lieut. Col. Fred B. Thomas, First Infantry Maj. J. M. Ashley, First Infantry Maj. T. J. Hagan, Medical Officer and Capt. C. N. Barber, Adjutant First Infantry Recorder. The officers taking the examination were: Capt. H. N. Eastman, Capt. M. B. Bill, Capt. W. P. Springer, Capt. J. L. Shanley, First Lieut. A. G. Wheeler, First Lieut. G. C. Cowan, First Lieut. L. J. Cooley, First Lieut. E. R. Britain, First Lieut. H. L. Homister, Second Lieut. P. H. Gates, Second Lieut. C. H. Hayden, and Second Lieut. W. G. Hendee.

Barre Golf Club Scores.

For the third week of the weekly tournament at the Barre Golf club, only 12 cards were turned in, the rainy day Saturday being the cause for the small entry. However, no less than nine members played in the rain that afternoon. In class A, James Freeland won first with a net score of 75, with Andrew Freeland and Peter Brown tied for second with a net score of 76. In class B, W. C. Johnson won first place with 72 net, with D. J. McMillan and J. Comelli tied for second with 76 each. The scores:

CLASS A.	Gross.	Handic.	Net
J. Freeland	81	6	75
A. W. Freeland	82	6	76
P. Brown	86	10	76
J. B. Stewart	91	11	80
J. P. Reid	99	9	90
CLASS B.	Gross.	Handic.	Net
W. C. Johnson	86	14	72
D. J. McMillan	88	12	76
J. Comelli	89	13	76
G. E. Milne	94	16	78
W. D. Lovie	96	16	80

DRIFT TOWARD
MR. HUGHES

Republicans Look for Sign
That Progressives Will Accept Him

BOTH PARTIES NOW
PLAY WAITING GAME

G. O. P. Leaders Make Little Progress in Get-Together Movement

Chicago, June 5.—Will Col. Roosevelt and the Progressive party endorse Associate Justice Charles E. Hughes?

That is the question about which the situation in regard to the Republican presidential nomination is now turning. Big leaders in the Republican party acknowledged Saturday that it became evident that Justice Hughes would be acceptable to Col. Roosevelt and the Progressives, he probably will be named. But if Roosevelt and his followers make known in advance their determination not to accept Mr. Hughes, a scramble in the Republican convention is predicted that will finally resolve itself into another bitter fight between the ex-president and the so-called old guard leaders of the party.

The situation, therefore, has developed practically into one of waiting for the first definite sign from Roosevelt and the Progressives as to their attitude toward Hughes. The Republican leaders have tried to get together on some other candidate, notably Elihu Root of New York, or Philander C. Knox of Pennsylvania, with a hope of obtaining Progressive endorsement, but up to the present all efforts in this direction have failed, and several of the prominent leaders are acknowledging privately that the drift seems to be inevitably toward Hughes.

Col. Roosevelt's own candidacy, meanwhile, has made no substantial headway among big Republicans and developments thus far indicate that any effort to push the Roosevelt boom through the Republican convention will meet with bitter opposition from old-time leaders. Their attitude was described Saturday as being willing to give the colonel everything he might ask except the Republican nomination.

While all eyes here are now turned toward Roosevelt and the Progressive camp, those in the confidence of the colonel know that he is as yet absolutely uncommitted in regard to the situation. He, too, is waiting. He is not going to say to the Republican leaders that he will not support a third ticket. Also, he is not going to give any assurances to the Progressives that he will join with them again in an independent movement. He is going to wait for the Republican leaders to shape events in the next few days and to remain silent himself. Under some circumstances, it is said, he feels his allegiance might be to the following that he led four years ago.

The question was put squarely to George W. Perkins Saturday whether or not the Progressives would accept Justice Hughes, and he evaded a direct reply. The interview with Mr. Perkins clearly indicated that he was not yet prepared to say that the Progressives would not take Mr. Hughes.

DEMOCRATS TO NAME
WILSON ON 17TH

Convention Program Announced—McCombs to See Early G. O. P. Sessions.

St. Louis, June 5.—President Wilson and Vice-President Marshall are to be nominated as the Democratic party standard bearers for the presidential campaign some time early Saturday morning, the 17th, at the final session of the Democratic national convention at St. Louis. Plans for the convention have been virtually agreed upon by National Chairman McCombs and the committee on arrangements.

"We plan to reach the vote on President Wilson about 1 o'clock Saturday morning," said Chairman McCombs Saturday night, "and expect to proceed with the nomination of vice-president thereafter. There will be no limitation on the length of seconding speeches, but we see no reason why we should not conclude our work some time Saturday morning."

The convention program, as decided upon, follows:
June 14.—Convention called to order at noon by National Chairman McCombs; reading of call for convention; prayer; rollcall of states and announcement of the temporary officers of the convention; address by temporary chairman; adoption of rules and the rollcall of states on committee selections.

June 15 (noon).—Report of committee on credentials and other committee reports; followed by speeches of prominent delegates on campaign issues and party achievements.

June 16 (noon).—Report of the committee on platform and resolutions, to be followed by speeches of delegates; adjournment until 8 p. m. for a night session, when nominations for president and vice-president will be undertaken.

June 17.—Meeting at noon of the new national committee for purposes of organization and selection of new chairman. National committeemen here anticipate that probably two or three names will be presented to the convention floor for vice-president, but say they will be withdrawn after complimentary votes have been cast, and the convention will then renominate Vice-President Marshall by acclamation.

National Chairman McCombs and his associates expect to attend the early sessions of the Republican national convention.

Baseball Briefs.

Leslie Mann, a former Brave but now a Cub, seems to be playing better ball than when he was with the Boston team last season and the season before. Throughout the present campaign Mann has been fielding a faster game, taking more chances and making more sure of them than ever before and his hitting has been far superior to what it was when he was in a Brave uniform. In the present series between the Braves and the Cubs, Mann's consistent stick work has been a feature.

There is a syndicate in Dallas, Texas, that is trying to induce Tris Speaker to manage the team there, but they are flying pretty high, for Cleveland would hardly let "Spoke" go. It was a mighty lucky deal for Cleveland and the "Spoke" club for the Indians. In the Saturday's game Speaker's clutching three out of four times up for a total of eight bases wasn't so bad.

Friday, June 23, the fans will meet in Boston to celebrate "Witt" day at the American league grounds. Fans from all over New England are planning on celebrating the day set aside, by taking a run down to Boston to watch their favorite perform in big league company. The largest number, will go from Wintchendon, the home town of Witt. About five or six hundred are planning to go over from there, but fans from Vermont, New Hampshire, and Maine are planning to attend the game. The committee in charge of the celebration is made up of the leading citizens of Wintchendon. Henry Hiedel is chairman and William H. Pierce, postmaster, is secretary. Witt will be presented a number of presents from the fans from different parts of New England, where he performed through the summer months while a student at Goddard seminary.

The Giants won the second game on their home grounds June 3.

To show what a winning team will do, take Cleveland for instance, years before they would draw only a few hundred out to the park to see a game, but every seat was sold Saturday afternoon for Sunday's game.

Exeter won its annual game with Andover Saturday.

The team that has just won 17 straight for McGraw is not as good a ball team as the team that won eighteen straight in 1904. Looking at it in one light, the present team has a better army of pitchers than did the team 12 years ago, but Matty is not the Matty that he was back in 1904, and McGraw is another star that McGraw had to rely upon. While he has a longer string to choose from there are none equal to Mathewson and McGraw in their prime. McGraw's infield and outfield will average about the same on the defense and offense.

College teams that have won long strings of victories this year are Tufts with 13, and Harvard with 12. These are two pretty evenly balanced teams, and if they could get together they might make it interesting for any fan. Tufts has a trifle heavier hitting team, but Harvard has a nicely coached team and plays a great inside game. At the present time the Harvard pitchers are going at top speed and are furnishing trouble for all of their opponents.

PRESIDENT

Lansing Upholds Foreign Policy and Flays
Critics

IN SPEECH AT WATERTOWN, N. Y.

Violation of Right of Life Is More Serious Than Violation of Right of Property

Watertown, N. Y., June 5.—Secretary Lansing, before the Jefferson County Bar association at Watertown, Saturday night, scored critics of the administration's foreign policy who would have it do more than has been done in the negotiations arising from the war, and replied to those who complain the United States has been more vigorous in its dealings with Germany than with Great Britain.

"The violation of the natural right of life is a much more serious offense against an individual and against his nation," said Secretary Lansing, "than the violation of the legal right of property. Can you doubt for a moment which one gives this government the greater concern?"

That there was an influence in America, even in Congress, which put right of property and right of life on a par, Secretary Lansing declared, showed that "the great heart of the republic is threatened with fatty degeneracy through those who have lost their patriotic vigor; that many Americans have become lovers of ease rather than lovers of national honor."

Mr. Lansing read his address. He said he felt compelled to do so that he might not be misunderstood.

FIVE ARE SHOT
When Posse Attempts to Arrest Kentucky Negro.

Lexington, Ky., June 5.—Five people were shot Saturday following an alleged attack by a negro upon Mrs. A. A. Robertson at her home in Lexington's exclusive residential section. The police claim that the negro, who is as yet unidentified, shot Mrs. Robertson through the neck, seriously wounding her. The police were notified and with a posse of citizens entered the home. They were met with a fusillade from the negro's gun. Detective James Stewart receiving a probably fatal wound, while Frank Corbin and W. J. Gilsdorf, both prominent citizens, were seriously wounded. The posse returned fire and the negro dropped with several bullets through his body.

ing to St. Louis

WILSON WORKS ON PLATFORM DRAFT

House Honors Memory of Jefferson Davis—Interest in Sea Fight

Washington, June 5.—There was great official lassitude at Washington Saturday. Democratic national politics are piping up somewhat, although it is the eve of important Republican events at Chicago. Possibly there is forethought in bringing notable arrangements for the St. Louis convention to the front just when so much comment is issuing from Chicago. For example, it is being announced and reiterated here that President Wilson is working away on a preliminary draft of the Democratic platform and that certain of the planks will be especially of his own hewing. But while Republicans and some others were generally pulling out of Washington for the windy city, this week Saturday notable Democrats of Congress will be rolling away toward St. Louis. With the June days flying, Democrats may well be closing up their convention arrangements.

The House remained in session for only an hour Saturday. There were remarks by a few of the southerners on the career of Jefferson Davis, as this was the 108th anniversary of his birth. This has been a remarkable session of Congress for eulogies upon public men of various shades of opinion, but the upstanding feature has been, in that connection, emphasis of a reunited country and the disappearance of sectionalism. That was made much of Saturday, and the southern speakers dwelt alike upon Lincoln and Davis and rejoiced that the country was at last reunited.

The Senate dallied along, refusing to adjourn early, but devoting time to the calendar. There was much informality about the proceedings. Thus it will probably be for the next two or three weeks, Washington will virtually have a holiday during that period. There is a nice little contention before the House as to whether the 14th, flag day, shall be a legal holiday in the District of Columbia this year. That is the day fixed for the preparedness parade which President Wilson will lead and review. The Senate has voted "Yes," but Majority Leader Kitchen is holding about about it. Government clerks are eagerly watching the outcome, for they do not work on holidays.

The navy department was a beehive of comment with reference to the big naval battle in the North sea. Detailed information about that conflict is much desired, but reliable comment as to the lessons in naval warfare which the battle should teach cannot be had for the present. There will be an effort to incorporate into the naval appropriation bill in the Senate legislation which that battle may indicate as necessary. One of the most conspicuous inferences to-day seems to be that Zeppelins are worth while and that Congress ought to authorize the construction of several.

ARMY BILL SIGNED.
First Big Preparedness Measure Now a Law.

Washington, June 5.—President Wilson has signed the army reorganization bill, first of the important preparedness measures passed by Congress during the present session. The president has been studying the bill carefully for more than a week. He used a pen belonging to Senator Smith of South Carolina, who desired it for a souvenir.

An analysis of the bill by Chairman Chamberlain of the Senate military committee put the peace strength of the army under the law at 211,000 officers and men, including 25,000 staff troops, Philippine scouts and unassigned recruits, and the war strength at 236,500 officers and combatant troops, which with staff troops, scouts, etc., would bring the total aggregate maximum of the regular army to 261,500. As reorganized the National Guard would number 457,000, making a grand total available war strength of 718,500.

Other important features include an appropriation of $20,000,000 for a government nitrate manufacturing plant, establishment of military training companies for volunteer citizens and creation of several boards to investigate questions of preparedness. Authority is given the government to seize and operate privately owned munition plants in war time. Regular army enlistment is fixed at seven years, four of which may be spent in reserve, and at no time after five years, when the minimum is to be obtained, is the peace strength to go under 160,000.

Would Itch and Burn.

HEALED BY CUTICURA
SOAP AND OINTMENT

"My face and chest started to break out with pimples. Then my face started to get red and I used to scratch until the blood came. The pimples were large, red and hard, and the most of the time in blotches from my face to my chest. My face was all disfigured and would itch and burn so that I would stay awake hours at night."

"This kept on for seven and a half months so a friend advised me to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I sent for a free sample and it started to heal me so I bought three cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Ointment, and they healed me."
